

RADF PROJECT HIGHLIGHTS

Now And Not Now – Glen O'Malley

A small exhibition of work covering a twenty five year career, presented in a community where the artist developed formative ideas on artistic style and technique. The exhibition was specifically concerned with attempting to meld the two styles considered to be representative of the artist's work.

RADF Grant
Small Arts Grant 2017-2018
 $500 funding approved

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

- Attendance by locals (Hinchinbrook and Cassowary Coast residents) and Cairns and Townsville art community members
- Refinement of new directions in practice - especially in exhibiting colour and monochrome together

OUTCOMES

- Insights gained into effective exhibition of thematically different works
- Development of a working relationship with JCU curator, Marion Heath, towards an upcoming retrospective exhibition

TYTO ART GALLERY, INGHAM

JANUARY 2019

Opening visitors:	100
Total visitors:	411
Community members involved:	7

Managed by Cultural Services

