Fortnightly EDM

Ticketlink sends out a fortnightly EDM (Email Direct Marketing) to our entire database of over 23,000 customers. This EDM includes upcoming events occurring in the next two - four week period, at our discretion, from the distribution date of the EDM. Your event shall be included in this EDM (subject to availability) free of charge.

Other Digital and Social Media

All events are listed on www.entertainmentcairns.com and across our social media networks at no additional charge. We encourage you to post your own content and ‘tag’ Ticketlink, (@Ticketlink), this way we will receive a notification of your post and will be able to share this across our social channels. Flyers

Ticketlink sells tickets for a very large number of events and performances. A high percentage of these tickets are purchased online or over the telephone, and the tickets are mailed out to customers. If you provide Ticketlink with DL size flyers for your event, these flyers can be included with tickets that are mailed out for similar events.

Posters

Ticketlink can display a poster promoting your event in the Ticketlink box office, free of charge.

For a small additional charge, Ticketlink can arrange to send an email and/or letter or flyer to a targeted section of our database. For example, if you are holding a classical music event, we can target customers who have attended classical music events in the past.
