

K Suburbs

- Kamerunga Reported to be an Aboriginal word from the Yidinji language, being the name for the Barron Gorge.
- Kanimbla Named after MV Kanimbla, a coastal passenger liner, which used Cairns as a cruise port of call between 1936 and 1961, and also served as a Landing Ship Infantry in South West Pacific theatre 1943-45. Kanimbla was named and bounded, as an excised area from Manoora and Mooroolbool, by the Governor in Council on the 11th February 1989. The boundaries were amended by the Minister for Natural Resources on the 23rd February 2001.
- Kewarra Beach The name is a derivative of the aboriginal word 'kewarra', meaning 'at the foot of the rainbow'. The name was adopted in the 1970s by Euan Bruce, the Cairns engineer charged with creating the suburb.
